Fear "Rich Monopolists"

The two first questions in the railroad situation, Mr. Bryan declared, are whether we are to have government or private ownership and how to bring about the transition from present to other control. He argued against a private monopoly on the ground that it eliminated competition and tended to create a group of rich monopolists who came to disbelieve in popular government.
"The principal arguments against the Flumb rdon" he acid "The principal arguments against the Plumb plan," he said, "are its cost, the possibility of the roads be-ing made a political football, and the

The News of Business

THE heightened activity in the acceptance market which began Thursday continued yesterday. An increased supply of bills came into the market, and out-of-town banks showed eagerness to take all that were available. The period of dulness which prevailed up to the last demand. With collections reported to be exceedingly good, the out-of- brisk. town banks have been eager for acceptances, and the withdrawals of New York institutions from the market caused no hardship to those with ton goods market yesterday, owing primarily to the lack of merchandise that could be delivered at once . Not many buyers sought goods, but those who did generally wanted immediate delivery on orders, and available stocks of that charactter were to be had only from a few scurces.

A resumption of buying early next month is looked for, but not until after the army sale of cotton goods on September 4. There are large stocks to be disposed of by the government, and the prices they will bring are furnishing considerable speculation. The recent sale by the army of drygoods, at which quotations were generally higher than market values, has not been forgotton by jobbers and manufacturers and they are wondering whether this will be repeated next week.
